Mr. Jos. Fox was in town this week from Casa Blanca.

Mr. Wm. Steffy, of De Noon, was in town this week.

Mr. T. P. Carson came down from Do Noon this week with a shipment of bullion from the Reymert mill.

Mr. Eugene Middleton now takes daily airings and is improving as rapidly as it is possible for one in his condition to do. His mother returned to her home on Monday.

Mr. Fred. A. Adams has been busy this week constructing the scaffold from which the five Apache Indians now under sentence of death will be hanged.

Mrs. F. H. Hill, of Chicago, who has recently visited Phoenix and Casa Grande, arrived in Florence yesterday. She is perfectly delighted with Arizona and thinks its climate is incomparable.

Prof. Hitchcock has been unable to attend to his duties as principal of the public school for the past three or four days, on account of sickness. He is troubled with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. J. L. Clark and family, of American Flag, were in town this week visiting relatives. Mr. Clark has charge of the Columbia Cable Company's stock and ranch in the Santa Catalinas and is one of the solid men of that portion of Pinal county.

Mr. John Dunn has resigned as Foreman of the Silver King and it is rumored that he will go to Sonora, Mexico, to accept a similar position upon properties there owned by the bonanza company. Mr. J. L. Scott has succeeded Mr. Dunn at Silver King.

Miss Nellie Chishman has returned to Arizona after making an extensive tour of Oregon and Washington, fully satisfied to remain here. To use her own words, she "had to come back to civilization." After spending a few days in Tucson, Miss Chishman will visit the Hareua Hala country and will probably establish a boarding house in one of the camps in that vicinity.

Messrs. J. N. Denier and Isaac Richmond have formed a co-partnership under the name of Denier & Richmond, and they propose to establish their new store in Henry's brick building, a first-class establishment in every respect and will soon have an immense stock of goods on their shelves which will be sold at prices that will command a big trade.

The work on the Florence Canal company's reservoir will begin about December 1st. About 25,000 lbs. of additional material for its construction arrived in Casa Grande Thursday evening. The rumor that men were wanted at the reservoir is untrue, as many poor fellows have learned to their sorrow after tramping out to the site.

The Select Knights have concluded to postpone the ball they intended to give on Thanksgiving night, until Christmas. It will then be given in the new brick store of W. C. Smith & Co., and the music will be brought from Tucson. It is intended to make it the greatest social event in the history of the place.

It is with exceeding regret that THE ENTERPRISE announces the serious illness of Judge J. D. Walker, at the Vekol, who is suffering with paralysis of the throat and is reported quite low. His many warm friends in Pinal county all hope that he may fully recover from his illness. His brother, Mr. W. H. Walker, arrived in Casa Grande a few days ago from Los Angeles, and went at once to the Vekol.

The Kodak is regarded as the best instrument for amateur or even professional photographers, and is a standard instrument in every particular. THE ENTERPRISE has purchased one of these handy affairs and will take in the whole country, in a shadow way, not only to enlarge its picture cabinet, but for occasional illustration through its columns. See ad. in another column.

The Sacramento of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated one week from next Sabbath, at the close of morning service. Preparatory lecture on Saturday the day previous—at 3 p. m. Those desiring to unite with the Presbyterian church on profession of faith or by certificate, will please be present at the Saturday's lecture, as the session will close immediately after its close. L. T. WITKOWSKI, Acting Pastor.

Mr. W. D. Harrington has purchased of Col. Christy, of Phoenix, ten handsome shorthorn Durham bulls for his Ripsey stock ranch. Five of the animals are sixteen months old, two are eight months old and three are seven, six and five months old respectively, and their average weight was 800 pounds. They are a fine lot of cattle and were admired by many people last Sunday at Granville Wheat's corral. Mr. Harrington's cattle are already well graded and his herd is one of the finest in the country.

A big line of Floor Matting of new and elegant designs has just been received by W. C. Smith & Co. It is the best ever covering for this climate. Special pains were taken in selection for quality and appearance, while the price is

Death of F. C. Calderon.

On Thursday morning, about nine o'clock, Mr. F. C. Calderon, of the firm of J. D. Rittenhouse Estate, passed away in a peaceful and painless sleep, after a brief illness. He returned from San Francisco about two weeks ago with a fatal illness fastened upon him and never arose from his bed afterwards. When he left San Francisco he was quite ill, and kept his berth in the sleeping car until Casa Grande was reached and was brought to Florence by private conveyance as speedily as possible. The symptoms at first suggested malarial fever of a remittent character, which quickly developed into an aggravated case of pleuropneumonia involving the entire thorax and both lungs, which resisted the best efforts of medical skill to alleviate. He grew gradually worse and much of the time was delirious, especially during the night. On Wednesday afternoon when it became apparent that the end was near, he made a will, bequeathing all his possessions to his mother, who is an invalid residing in San Francisco.

Mr. Calderon was born in Mexico, and was twenty-three years of age. He came to Florence nearly four years ago to accept a position in Mr. J. D. Rittenhouse's store. Upon the death of Mr. Rittenhouse, two years ago, Mr. Calderon was given entire charge of the large business of that house and conducted it with great ability and fidelity, and upon the final settlement of the estate he was given an equal partner. He possessed remarkable business talents and had not lost interest in his future promised financial success such as few men attain.

The funeral of the deceased will be held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by the many friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

Save the Ruins.

Rev. I. T. Whittemore is taking a lively interest in the preservation of the ruins of Casa Grande, that glorious monument of the unknown people who flourished in this valley thousands of years ago, and in urging upon the Interior department the necessity of taking immediate steps to save them from their ravages of time and relic hunters. He is also endeavoring to have a custodian appointed to care for them, and recently addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Interior, in which he urged the necessity of their preservation. His letter was referred to Mr. J. W. Powell, chief of the U. S. Geological Survey, who replied to Mr. Whittemore as follows:

"In reply to your favor of October 3d, to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior and by his referred to me, I have the honor to state that I fully recognize the importance of the speedy appointment of a custodian of the Casa Grande ruins, and doubt not the man you suggest for the place is in every respect a worthy and competent person. The necessary authority for such action is, however, wanting, inasmuch as the law passed by Congress, setting apart an appropriation for the preservation of the ruins, makes no provision for the salary of a custodian. There is hence no law for such an appointment and Congress will hence have to take steps in the matter before it can be made."

The Blind Violinist.

Prof. Wood, the blind violinist, entertained the people of Florence on Wednesday evening with another of his delightful concerts, during which he demonstrated his mastery of that king of musical instruments. His performance evoked a wide range of melody and skill, and many of his imitations were extremely laughable. He was assisted by Senor Olivas with his guitar, and their duets were charming indeed. Prof. Wood will give another concert to-night at the Court House, and as he is a very deserving person and a thorough musician, it is hoped he will be given a ringing house. He will give an entertainment on Globe next week, and on Thanksgiving night he will furnish the music for a grand ball at Casa Grande.

Mr. M. M. Rice started out last Monday with three pack animals and a saddle horse for a prospecting trip of a couple of months to the unexplored country south of the Colorado river. He will go direct to Sonora and from that place travel in a westerly direction in search of mines that he has discovered six years ago, at a time when it was not possible for him to locate claims upon them.

There are now forty-one pupils attending the Casa Grande school and a lot of new desks are daily expected to accommodate them all. Mrs. H. Q. Robertson has been appointed assistant teacher and Mr. Robertson is now enabled to devote more attention to the classes further advanced. It is a well-conducted school and a credit to the town.

Heating and Cooking Stoves and Ranges of all sizes and descriptions; Crocks and Canning Machines, Metal Roofing—the cheapest and best in the market, agricultural implements of all kinds and everything pertaining to the hardware trade, delivered at Casa Grande at Tucson prices. He will give a wide range of prices. Hughes, Stevens & Co.

Mr. R. H. Martin advertises his model farm, near Florence, for sale. It is one of the best tracts of land in the zone and over 500 acres are in a high state of cultivation. It is patented land and has good water right. Price and terms will be made known on application to Mr. Martin.

There is some talk of leaving the corner of the new house laid with the Masonic ceremony by Grand Master Geo. J. Roskrug, of Tucson, assisted by other prominent Masons and resident members of the fraternity.

CASA GRANDE.

PROSPECTS OF ITS BECOMING A GREAT COMMERCIAL CENTER.

Great Activity in Agricultural Matters—Town and Country are Busy.

W. N. Crandall says he will complete the Florence canal to the railroad by the 15th inst.

The railroad company has driven strong piles for the culvert through which the canal will cross the railroad.

Orin E. Taft has about forty acres of his land already cleared.

H. C. Johnston was in town this week, purchasing supplies and preparing help to push the work on his land.

J. W. Divelle, whose land adjoins that of Rev. F. W. Gumsulius, is making the necessary preparations to clear his section of land.

Col. George Morse is one of the most active men in this part of the country. During the next six days he will move 450,000 pounds of machinery to the Central Silver mine.

Nearly all the land covered by the Casa Grande townsite survey has been taken up, and the claimants have either fenced or set posts to maintain possession. Some of the locators will be compelled to clear their lines to conform to the original survey. This activity was caused by the report that so soon as Mr. Crandall completes the canal to the railroad he will commence the lateral branch to the Casa Grande. Should this be done, and the canal company will unite with the people here, this will become one of the best towns in Arizona. It is an established town and can easily be made the nucleus of a flourishing city.

Geo. H. Daily, agent for Judge W. H. Barnes, was here last week, looking for a room in which to establish a general agricultural store and implement shop. A large stock is now in Tucson awaiting shipment as soon as suitable quarters can be had.

Judge J. D. Walker went to Vekol last week and inspected the mines. He found the Casa Grande mine cold and laid up. A report has just reached this place that he has suffered a stroke of paralysis, but the severity of his affliction is not known. Dr. Seabie is with the Judge.

The report some time ago that a rich body of ore had been encountered in the Golden West mine is confirmed by disinterested parties here.

A. J. Moreno returned on Monday, from Tucson with his bride, Miss Gomez, a sister of Mrs. E. Moreno of Florence. Their many friends heartily congratulated the happy couple.

J. M. Wood and C. M. Marshall have each received an Aermotor windmill from Hoff, of Tucson.

At the railroad depot there is a lot of miscellaneous freight for the Pima agency, amongst which is an organ, several boxes marked books and a box of bath towels. One of the depots warehouse is taken up with trunks full of merchandise, consigned to W. C. Smith & Co., of Florence. The question is asked, are all the people of Florence expected to make a trip to Europe next Spring?

The lumber for the dwelling houses of Messrs. H. C. Johnston and J. W. Dwell went out to their ranches this week.

There are some sixty Western Wheel scrapers and a large lot of plows at the depot, for the reservoir contractor. The scrapers are mounted upon two heavy wheels and are of the latest improved pattern.

George Reynolds returned last week from Wilcox, where he superintended the shipment of the Central Silver mill. At present Mr. Reynolds is confined to his room with sickness, but expects to be out in a few days and complete the removal of the machinery. Mrs. Reynolds is here from Pinal, taking care of her husband.

Among the new possessions of Mr. O. E. Taft is a fine bull pup.

This Expressman is indebted to Mr. Thos. Love, railroad agent for the following statement of wheat shipped from this place since last March: From Casa Grande, 1,299,340; from Sweetwater about an equal quantity, going a lot of over 100,000 bushels or half million pounds. There were also many thousands of pounds hauled by teams to Tempe and Tucson.

Mr. Kennedy, an experienced mining man of Globe, has been in the neighborhood for some time looking at the mines to the south. He predicts a great future for them and a boom for Casa Grande.

The machinery of the Lela mill will have to undergo a change before the ore can be successfully worked.

Carr Mayhew has an excellent meat market in this place and supplies the choicest meats to be found in the country.

Phonics Price has built a five-room cottage on his 160-acre tract adjoining Casa Grande. A windmill will be put up and fruit trees planted this fall. This land will be very valuable before long.

An aunt of Mr. J. W. Dwell is now visiting Phoenix, but she will return in a few days and spend the winter here.

Al. Richeson has returned here and bought the saloon lately owned by Phonics Price. The premises are being sold at once and the new saloon is promised the best that can be had.

Augustine Flores has been in town for the past week, but will return to Florence, which he thinks is the best place for him.

H. McQueen is now here.

O. F. B. has bought an interest in Frank Souza's saloon.

J. P. McLaughlin, who recently lost his wife at Gila Bend, is now stationed here.

J. C. Loss started for St. Louis on Tuesday evening, to attend the National Silver Convention. Although his affairs here require his constant attention, he feels it his duty to attend the convention.

The Lake Shore copper properties, south of this place, will probably be worked in a short time. They are excellent mines and worthy the attention of capitalists. There are two good furnaces in their neighborhood which can be supplied with ore from these mines.

Isaac Gallowsay, the tonsorial artist, is kept busy day and night.

The restaurant connected with the Fryer Hotel is receiving the patronage it deserves. One can always get a good meal and receive polite attention there.

Mrs. Pauline Fryer has resumed charge of the Fryer Hotel. She is very attentive to guests and her house is very popular. Everything is kept clean and bright and the waiters, but residents of Casa Grande, appreciate her efforts to please.

Sterling P. Mahan has gone to the Vekol to accept his old position as foreman.

J. F. Makle has returned from Doz Cabaza and is now at Jack Rabbit.

Hugh Chalmers, of the Blinn Lumber company, is doing more business now than at any time since the yard was established.
